All of our products are handcrafted from regionally-sourced solid wood during small-batch productions in Louisville, Kentucky.

Meticulous attention is paid to every aspect of production, from raw material selection, cutting, sanding and finishing to packing and shipping. You'll find no MDF, veneers, or composite materials in our wood products.

Our guiding principles are style, strength, sustainability, affordability and locally made. A combination not often found in furniture design.

Our Story

Tedesco~Rosa started as an experiment to design a custom dining table to coordinate with the style of our 150+ year old Italianate home ... traditional, formidable and grand on the outside; contemporary, open, and simple on the inside.

The dining room was our inspiration with its original hardwood floors and metal hardware found in the doors. We turned our dining room into a laboratory — experimenting with different designs, colors, materials, parts, angles and preferences.

In 2021 and after many compliments, we worked with local craftsmen to commercialize our custom dining set and launch a retail dining furniture business.

Amee and Greg Kent reside in Louisville, Kentucky. We're celebrating 21 years of marriage in November 2024.

We have four children ages 18, 17, 15 and 12 and a rescue dog named Diesel.
